

Central Connecticut Woodturners

A Chapter of The American Association of Woodturners
Dedicated to the Advancement of Woodturning

NEXT MEETING—APRIL 22 AT JIM KEPHART’S SHOP
85 HILLARD ST, MANCHESTER, CT
MEETING STARTING AT 6:30 PM
Rick Meier will demo “Natural Edge Bowl”

PRESIDENT’S NOTE

CCWoodturners.org website

Joe S. and I spent some time learning about our website this month and want to put that knowledge to use. We believe it's time for an upgrade to CCwoodturners.org.

We can't do it alone. We need your ideas and input. Tell us what you like and what you feel needs to be updated. Joe and I will be at the next meeting (April 22) ½ hour earlier (6 pm). We are inviting anyone who wants to join us. You don't need any formal website building experience.

What are we looking for is your “user” experience. What you like about other woodturning websites, why you visit those sites and what are you looking to find on those sites. You do not have to provide anything formal. Just join us and discuss your ideas.

George Upton, CCW President

MAY 27 CLUB MEETING

This meeting will be held at The Parkerville Wood Products Co. They are located at 580 Parker St, Manchester, CT. The meeting will begin at 6:30 pm. The demonstrator and demo subject have yet to be determined.

Parkerville offers domestic and exotic wood for sale as well as other woodworking products.

To aid one in locating their shop go to their website www.parkervillewoodproducts.com, click on "about" and scroll to the bottom of the page for a map.

COPPER BEACH

Those CCW members that were given Copper Beach wood with the agreement that they return a finished piece back to the church were the tree fell should give their turned object(s) to Chris Zibbideo at the April 22 meeting. To make other arrangements, contact Chris.

The Parish of St. Joseph's in Shelton, CT. is appreciative of your work.

March Demo by Ken Guarneri "Something Different"

In 2008, Ron's grandson, Kaleb, want to produce a video for a school project. He consulted with his Grandfather and they came up with the idea of Ken being filmed as he turned a bowl.

Ken presented the video at the March CCW meeting.

In this video, "Something Different" Ken turned a bowl on his Shopsmith lathe. As he turned he gave detailed instructions on bowl turning.

Kaleb was also present on the video acting as director.

Kaleb's video was entertaining and informative. This video was as good as and even better than some videos on the woodturning market today.

Well done Kaleb!

NO! Ken does not still have the Shopsmith!! He is now a ONEWAY man!

TOTALLY TURNING SARATOGA SPRINGS, NEW YORK MARCH 29-30

Several CCW Club members attended this large scale event. Eric Holmquist and Lynda Zibbideo received award for their outstanding work. Photos of some turning below at the gallery:
